Hi Courtney, I do support revisiting the permit for the cell tower listed at 877 South Street.

I feel that the address listed was extremely misleading regarding the actual placement of said tower. To place it at the extreme corner of the lot close to an established neighborhood is not only unsatisfactory but represents a possible safety concern as well as a possible reduction in property values for these residents.

I have considerable concern over the PROPER notification process enabling residents to voice their concerns before it was approved by the zoning board of appeals. Apparently over a dozen neighbors that should have been notified were not. These residents take pride in their homes and neighborhood and certainly should not be subject to less than complete transparency regarding something of this magnitude being constructed.

Any other questions, please contact me.

Thanks,
